About the Program

World Health Day is celebrated annually on April 7th and is organized by the World Health Organization (WHO). The day marks the anniversary of the founding of WHO in 1948 and is dedicated to raising awareness about global health issues. Each year, WHO selects a specific theme to highlight a pressing health concern and encourage actions to improve global well-being. World Health Day is observed globally with activities such as campaigns, seminars, health screenings, and educational programs to spread awareness about the chosen theme. The theme for 2025, titled "Healthy beginnings, hopeful futures", focusing on maternal and newborn health. Investing in maternal and newborn health not only saves lives but also fosters healthier societies and drives economic development. World Health Day 2025 serves as a call to action for global solidarity and investment in the health of mothers and babies, ensuring a brighter future for all.
